MISSION STATEMENT

Our mission is to spread the gospel of Christ in thought, word, and deed to our community and the world.

Saint Ann's New Look

It has been a long summer for Saint Ann's, with a lot of digging, construction, and change to the front of the church. There were several weeks when we could not even use the front door!

But here it is the beginning of Autumn, and the work is nearly finished! The new expanded steps, along with wrought iron railings, and the all-important handicap ramp have been completed. New plantings have been added to replace the ones which had to be removed during construction, and the last detail—a stone planter in the center of the ramp—is nearing completion.

The parking lot has been repaved making it much easier to walk from your car to the Parish Hall, and you may also note that the landscapers have been working on the Great Lawn. The construction vehicles left ruts in the lawn which made an uneven surface and could be risky to walk on. Topsoil is being added to fill in the ruts, and it will be newly seeded—making the Great Lawn even greater! So even though we have a new look and an entrance to welcome all, it's still the same classic stone church. Like having our cake and eating it too!

Congratulations to Father Brian

Father Brian was ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, September 10, at the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City, with Bishop Lawrence Provenzano presiding. He is shown here, with Mother Diane, modeling his new chasuble, a gift from our parish.

We were happy to see a good turnout of St. Ann's parishioners at the ordination, and we look forward to having Father Brian and his wife Holly with us for the next few years.

FROM THE EDITOR

“We draw people to Christ not by loudly discrediting what they believe, by telling them how wrong they are and how right we are, but by showing them a light that is so lovely that they want with all their hearts to know the source of it.” --Madeleine L’Engle

We are all quite certain of what we know, and naturally, what we know is right! Right? Trouble is, what is right for one person is not necessarily right for another. How can we know what is right for a person unless we have walked in their shoes? One of the things unchurched people dislike is what we might call “Bible Thumpers”—people who approach you in public places and have nothing for you to feed your body or soul—only to “thump” the Bible and tell you what you have believed up to now is wrong and you must repent and follow what they say! Now maybe their hearts are in the right place, but their methods are psychologically ineffective. We can see this by taking a look at the election this year. How many people have you convinced to change their minds by loudly proclaiming how bad the other candidate(s) are? Not (m)any!

If you believe you are right, you need to demonstrate what it means to have your spiritual beliefs—not impose them. You need to meet people where they are. If they need food, you first feed them. If they need clothing, you clothe them. If they need hugs, you hug them. If you see them as a person, they will respond in kind. And when they see what kind of a person you are, they may first learn to trust you, and later want to find the source of that joy, generosity, and goodness. It is there for them to see, to reach out for, but it does no good to force it on them. It’s not easy to do when we know we are right, but we must learn to let go and live our beliefs. --Rodney Dudley

THE RECTOR'S CORNER

Will You Grow with Us This Year?

Dear Parish Family,

You will soon receive your 2016 pledge card, and I want to take this opportunity to talk with you about the importance of making a financial commitment to the life of Saint Ann's through your pledge. This year, I am asking if you are giving, but not pledging, turn your giving into a pledge. If you are pledging, consider increasing it by 2% this year.

One of my favorite quotes--and you have heard me use it on several occasions--comes from William Temple, a former Archbishop of Canterbury. He said,

The church is the only organization that exists for the benefit of its non-members.

This quote reminds me of the sacred responsibility God has given us in the care and nurturing of not only our church, but also to the people who enter our doors seeking a beacon of light and sacred comfort within our walls and outside our doors through the mission and ministry we do at Saint Ann's. Saint Ann's has been a beacon of light for one hundred twenty-nine years; and during that time it has been the pledges of the Saint Ann's family of faith that kept the doors of this church open so that you might be sitting in the pews today.

And now, it is our responsibility to do the same. It is time for us to give back a portion of what God has so graciously blessed us with so that the work of the church may move forward in mission and function. I don't need to tell you of the practical reasons you pledge; such as the physical upkeep and administrative costs associated with a church of our size and age; because your pledge is a lot more than that. When you give back to the church part of what God has so graciously given to you, you are pledging a lot more than your money. You are acknowledging that you belong to something more important, something bigger than yourself; something bigger than your own wants and desires. Our money is not an ends and means unto itself, but a tool which allows us to do what we have been called to do; which is to be in relation with God and with one another in building up the Kingdom of God.

And we doing some great ministries in that regard. Our Food Pantry is feeding over 40 people a week; and through your generous support the food donations to feed these people keep coming in abundance. Our Senior Luncheons have an attendance of between 40-60 people each month, giving the seniors in our community a place to come and be with other people, have a nice lunch and hear a great program. The PB&J ministry to the homeless in the city is gathering momentum and volunteers. We had a very successful campaign to provide school supplies to the children of the Eastern Farm workers; our Thrift Shop continues to help so many people; and there is so much more we are doing.

We want to continue those good works, and begin to do even more. But, we need your pledge in order to maintain the staff and programs that support these ministries. Your Stewardship Chair, Nicole LaFontaine, has written her stewardship letter in this issue. Please take a moment to read it and then be ready to make your commitment to Saint Ann's in October when you receive your pledge card.

Blessings,
Mother Diane+

Vestry Visions

As the fall season is upon us, we notice changes in cool evening breezes, marked with earlier sunsets and longer sleeves. The fall also brings changes to the outside of our church. The new entrance is more inviting and open than ever, complimented by all the beautiful new shrubs. As time goes by, these new plants will grow and share their beauty for all to see. It reminds us that we as a church family must continue to grow and shine not only when worshipping on the inside of the church but more importantly growing and serving on the outside. We are the hands and feet of Christ and must continue that mission with our outreach. St. Ann's outreach has made an impact on so many in our community. Our Food Pantry feeds many families and our red wagon parked by the front door is a constant reminder to help feed the hungry in our community.

Another great outreach mission is the PB & J Mission led by Mary Mattarella. This involves monthly trips into New York City to distribute food, clothing and toiletries as well as smiles, prayers and much needed hugs. I had the privilege of taking part in this mission last month and can honestly say I saw the face of Christ in many that day. The feeling was overwhelming. I encourage anyone to experience this mission by giving in any way you can or simply just by hopping on the train and accompanying Mary.

Our senior luncheons are a huge success. The number of people attending increases each time. What a great outreach this is to our senior population who enjoy a nice lunch as well as listen to a guest speaker discuss important topics. Thanks to Karen and Linda for their time and talent.

Another form of outreach is fellowship within our church. On Saturday, October 8th, St. Ann's is having a Clam Bake sponsored by Claws of West Sayville. It is sure to be a great event for not only our parishioners but the surrounding community as well. Kudos to Jackie for all her efforts!

These are some examples of the many ways we serve our community and each other. In the next few weeks, we'll be receiving letters about our stewardship program asking us to give to the church. Our pledges will continue to make St. Ann's grow and enable our outreach programs to continue serving all parishioners as well as the greater community.

Each of us, by the words we speak and the steps we take, make a strong impact no matter how great or small in the lives of others.

LOOK UP!

Pride leads to every other vice: it is the complete anti-God state of mind. ... As long as you are proud, you cannot know God. A proud [person] is always looking down on things and people. And, of course, as long as you are looking down, you cannot see something that is above you. —C.S. Lewis

Thoughts from the Front Porch Father Brian Barry

Sipping my tea in the morning, sitting on my front porch, I've been quite thankful for the change in the weather. Summer heat is being replaced by brisk autumn mornings. The change in the season is heralding a shift in focus for me. As the dog days slip away to be replaced by apple cider and pumpkin spice, so, too, does summer vacation give way to a new school year. Sunday School has begun. It, and our youth, are occupying many of my front porch thoughts.

I am excited to get to know our kids. I visit with them after the 8:00 AM Eucharist on Sundays, and I watch as our Sunday School teachers expertly guide them in their Christian Formation. I am thankful to have such devoted teachers and assistants. In particular, I am very happy to say that several of our confirmands from previous years have stayed on to assist in Sunday School. St. Ann's should be proud that it produces youth of such character.

Speaking of youth with character, we had our first meeting of the Youth Group this past week. It was so much fun. I've always loved working with teenagers, but these kids really made my night. While some of our parents and volunteers were making bags for the PBJ Ministry that went out to NYC this past Saturday, the kids were regaling me with tales from Youth Group's History, like the War of the Walls (involving paint and magic markers). They were also kind enough to share some of their own stories, interests, talents, and hopes. I thought it was my job to entertain them, but they kept me laughing for the hour we spent together. What struck me the most was their desire to be of service: not only did they want to help with packing the bags for the PBJ Ministry, but a few went into the city with Mary Mattarella and some of our other volunteers to bring food and basic supplies to the homeless in NYC. I am humbled by their generous spirits. I expect it is going to be a very exciting school year here at St. Ann's, and I thank God for that.

The Youth Group started their weekly meetings on Sept. 21 in the Youth Room in Littlejohn Building. All Jr. High and High School youth are welcome. Fr. Brian is in charge.

Do not be daunted by the enormity of the world's grief. Do justly now. Love mercy now. Walk humbly now. You are not obligated to complete the work, but neither are you free to abandon it.

Friends Welcome!

United Thank Offering Sunday, October 16th

The United Thank Offering appeal is now underway. This year the letter and blue envelope will not be mailed; rather they will be distributed with the weekly bulletin at all services. In addition, there will be a display including blue envelopes in the Parish Hall, and they will be available in the church office. St Ann's parishioners have always been very supportive of this appeal. Please return your blue envelope with a check made out to St. Ann's and UTO on the memo line by Sunday, October 16th.

Envelopes may be placed in the offering plate or mailed to the office at 262 Middle Road.

The ECW thanks you for supporting this worthwhile cause!

From Our Stewardship Chair

Stewardship CAMPAIGN

It's once again time for our annual Pledge Campaign. Now I am sure many of you are rolling your eyes and saying to yourselves, "Oh, no, it's that time of year again. Sigh." But what you may see as an obligation, should really be looked at as a celebration!! Pledging to St. Ann's gives you the opportunity to celebrate this amazing parish and celebrate all of God's work that we do here everyday. There is no greater feeling on Earth than doing for others and giving back to God, and that, is what pledging to St. Ann's accomplishes.

"Well, I participate by putting my donation in the collection plate each week. Why do I need to pledge?"

Just like your personal finances, you know what your monthly budget is to keep your life going. You also know what you will earn each month to pay for that budget. The vestry at St. Ann's works very hard to ensure that the church's budget is strict and that all of the bases are covered such as upkeep, administrative costs, outreach, etc., but the only way for St. Ann's to know what is coming in to cover this budget each year, is through pledging. We cannot budget for essential items needed for our parish if the pledged income isn't there. Pledging allows the vestry to really know what St. Ann's can spend in any given year.

"I saw a financial statement for St. Ann's and the church has plenty of money. Why do you need my pledge?" While St. Ann's has been blessed with generous contributions for many different funds within the parish, these funds, 85% of St. Ann's investments, are restricted and can only be spent for very strict, intended purposes. The other 15% are unrestricted funds that can be used for the day-to-day operations of our church. This is where your pledges come into play. For the past few years, although the vestry has kept a tight reign on spending, we have been running at a deficit. We just cannot continue to do this. Without your pledge, we cannot properly run this parish and support the outreach that our community needs.

"Money is so tight these days. I don't know how much I can spare for St. Ann's." We all understand that these are uncertain financial times and yet, times like this make the work of St. Ann's even more critical to those who need our help; spiritually, financially and emotionally. Let's be honest; we all here at St. Ann's are truly blessed. If we look inside our hearts, we know that God has provided for us. Giving back a portion of what God has so graciously blessed us with, is in itself a gift; a gift that comes from your heart and fills it with joy, knowing that your donation is creating a stable parish and reaching those who are in need.

Won't you join me in the joyful celebration of giving back to God and to our parish? I have found in my own life that what I give, I have been given back in blessings tenfold. Please take prayerful consideration this year when filling out your pledge card. If you have never pledged before, now is the time to commit to St. Ann's mission. If you have pledged in the past, please consider increasing that pledge. As it is written in 2nd Corinthians 9:6-8 –

Now this I say, he who sows sparingly will also reap sparingly, and he who sows bountifully will also reap bountifully. Each one must do just as he has purposed in his heart, not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.

Please come join in our celebration of St. Ann's with your pledge.

New Choral Scholar-Intern

We welcomed Sayville High School Senior Emily Llewellyn to the Choir this year as a Choral Scholar-Intern. She has a beautiful soprano voice and will be helping the sopranos to reach those really high notes.

9/11 SERVICE AT COMMON GROUND

The Choir was pleased to have been asked once again by the Sayville Chamber of Commerce to participate in the 9/11 Memorial Service at The Common Ground. Rick Magnani sang the National Anthem, and the Choir followed, singing "America the Beautiful" and "My Country Tis of Thee." As always, it was a very moving service.

New Column: Jeanne La Natra has been a member of this parish all her life. Recently, she returned to school, and as of this year she is a newly minted graduate of Suffolk County Community College, with an Associate's degree in Dietetic Technology, and she is now certified as a Registered Dietetic Technician. Taking care of our bodies is important, because if we are not healthy, how can we reach out to help others? Jeanne is starting a monthly column here in The Correspondent to help us eat well and good! -Editor

Mindful Eating

What is Mindfulness? Mindfulness is basically doing one thing at a time, in the present moment, with our full attention. Mindfulness is also being aware of our thoughts, feelings senses, and the surrounding environment. When we practice mindfulness, our thoughts tune into what we are sensing in the present moment rather than rehashing the past or imagining the future.

What is Mindful Eating? It is simply eating, without engaging in another activity at the same time. It is about paying attention to your food, to its colors, shapes, tastes, textures and smells. You focus your attention on each yummy bite.

When you eat mindfully, you taste everything you want to taste, but you also notice how each food tastes. When you eat in this manner, you are satisfied with much less than if you eat quickly while preoccupied with something else. When we eat mindlessly, we are at risk for overeating and for consuming too many of the foods that are not good for us. That can lead to unwanted weight gain or weight regain.

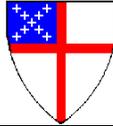

When we eat mindfully, we eat with both intention and attention. Eating with intention is about eating with the purpose of nourishing our bodies and feeling better physically. When we eat with attention, we notice what we eat and are able to be aware of our body's hunger and satiety signals.

Eating is an amazing, wonderful, comforting, pleasurable experience, a gift really; for there are so many people who are hungry and not able to experience this "gift". Give eating the respect it deserves by practicing Mindful Eating and Mindfulness in general. So the next time you find yourself sprawled on the couch, watching "Chopped" on the Food Network Channel, consuming a bag of Cheese Doodles, be mindful that maybe you are not being so mindful! -- By Jeanne La Natra, DT-R

GRACE IN, GRACE OUT

The computer acronym GIGO — "garbage in, garbage out" — describes how putting wrong code into a machine will lead to faulty output. Jesus offers a similar lesson in Matthew 15: "What comes out of the mouth proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a person" (v. 18, ESV).

GIGO works the other way, too. If we put good things (including the good news of salvation) "in" our hearts, Jesus' goodness will shine "out" through our lives. And when God's grace enters and changes us, we'll also reach out and share that good news with others.

NOTES

GARDEN UPDATES

The beautiful new plantings around the church and ramp have been designed and installed by Bayport Flower Houses. Special thanks go to Karl Auwaerter for his vision, expertise, and patience. The committee for this project included Sue Knoepffler, Christine Mulroy, John O'Neil, and Pat Osarchuk.

Thanks also go to those who've taken care of our other garden areas especially during our long, hot summer.

CHRISTIAN YOGA

THURSDAYS at 2:00 PM in the Parish Hall

TIME CHANGE: Now at 2:00 PM to approximately 3:15 PM

We use yoga mats (extras are available if you'd just like to visit), and do our exercises sitting down, lying down, and standing. Most of the exercises are basic stretching, and we do not get into anything complicated. It is also very relaxing for those who are feeling stressed. All welcome. No charge!

❖ The Garden of the Unforgotten ❖

THE SUYDAMS

ELIZA ROBERTS d. 1876
MITCHELL ROBERTS d. 1879

THE SUYDAM FAMILY – CONCLUSION

In the Southwest corner of the Suydam plot, lying flat, is a stone, broken and partially covered by dirt. It marks the graves of John R. and Ann Middleton Suydam's black servants, Eliza and Mitchell Roberts. The couple, according to family stories, were granted their freedom after the Civil War but chose to remain with the family.

Although this concludes the John R. Suydam members interred in the Garden of the Unforgotten, it is appropriate to note that John R. Suydam III, and his sister Lisa gave the stone gateway at the Foster Avenue entrance as a memorial to their parents.

ST. ANN'S

St. Ann's I've known you fifty years.
The family's lived and died here.
We've prayed our joys and our fears.
Shared our laughter and our tears.
I see a church of stone and glass.
With candlesticks of polished brass.
Everything here is of first class.
I even love the fresh cut grass.
St. Ann's I never want to leave you.
Though death will take me from the pew.
I'll lie in nearby grave in view.
Of all that I have loved so true.

+Christian Symbol+

Door

A door symbolizes our invitation to engage in prayer and personal relationship with Jesus: "Knock and the door will be opened to you" (Matthew 7:7 NIV). Conversely, a door represents Jesus' desire to be invited into our lives and hearts: "I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in and eat with that person, and they with me" (Revelation 3:20, NIV).
